Try a wide range of hairstyles and makeup options for you and your friends in this fun photo collage-style tool! The interface consists of a standard layout where you can get started by tinkering with two sample files - 'Anna.eff' and 'June.eff'. Otherwise, you can load your own items via the file browser ('drag and drop' is not supported). Beauty Wizard lets you customize a face file with numerous hairstyles - short, medium, long, special, male; the color can be changed to anything. Plus, you can resize the hairstyle and place it anywhere on the picture. When it comes to makeup, you can adjust the face complexion level and make selections of the outlines, eyes color, lipstick color and lips line color. Also, you can use a pencil, applicator and big brush, along with the undo function. Reloading the face file is possible. Furthermore, you can add pictures to a gallery, create a hairstyle from file and export items to JPG. The simple-to-use application runs on a moderate amount of CPU and system memory. It has a good response time, supports keyboard shortcuts and includes a help file. No error dialogs have been displayed throughout our testing and Beauty Wizard did not freeze or crash. Unfortunately, the tool does not include advanced features and the interface is outdated. Q: The number of solutions to $x_1 + x_2 + \dots + x_n = k$ is $\lfloor \frac{nk}{2} \rfloor$ I was trying to prove the following The number of solutions to $x_1 + x_2 + \dots + x_n = k$ is $\lfloor \frac{nk}{2} \rfloor$ where $0 \leq x_1, x_2, \dots, x_n \leq k$. I found that this is true for n even and n odd. I'm not sure if the number of solutions will always be $\lfloor \frac{nk}{2} \rfloor$ What if n is even and k is odd? A: Let the total number of solutions be N . Then, obviously, $N \leq \binom{n+k}{n}$
